‘Toes in the Sand’ Beach Vibe

MAJOR RENOVATION COMPLETED AT LAVA LAVA BEACH CLUB

LAVA LAVA BEACH CLUB HAS LONG BEEN THE GO-TO SPOT in Waikoloa Beach Resort for locals and visitors seeking a laidback meal or cocktail at Anaehoʻomalū Bay. It's a rare place where you can take off your shoes and enjoy a true “toes in the sand” experience.

Once seated at any of the ocean view tables, gentle trade winds and rhythmic waves on the rocks are just a stone's throw away. Green Hawaiian sea turtles, known as honu, can often be spotted swimming offshore. In the early evening, the stunning

Anaehoʻomalū Bay sunsets can be seen from every seat in the house, and it's always the perfect locale for pulling out the camera and trying to catch the “green flash.”

This past July, an extensive renovation was completed at Lava Lava Beach Club that added even more capacity to the popular spot.

“After several years of operation, we realized that we were ‘underbuilt’ for the volume of business we had,”

A new bar, hostess hut and retail space have been added.

explains Lava Lava Beach Club's co-owner Scott Dodd. "So, we started the process of planning, designing and permitting. We built for the future and our growth."

Additional seats have been added along the water's edge, and the outdoor kitchen has been enlarged, allowing staff to improve service. In the lawn area adjacent to the restaurant's entrance, a new bar, hostess hut and retail space have also been added.

"I think the new bar is beautiful, beachy and of course fun," Dodd comments. "And we have lots of new logo wear. After having a great time at Lava Lava Beach Club, people like having a souvenir to remember it by."

Many guests also take advantage of a photo opp in front of four colorful, vertical surf boards near the lawn, another way to capture the moment. And nearby, four contemporary Lava Lava Beach Club Hawaiian cottages are available for rent, where guests can fall sleep to the sounds of the surf or spend hours swimming in the ocean just seconds from their doorstep.

Lava Lava Beach Club is part of Luana Hospitality Group, co-owned by Dodd and Eric von Platen Luder. They also own Huggo's and On the Rocks restaurants in Kona, and Kai Eats + Drinks in Historic Kailua Village on the Big Island. In addition, they manage Lava Lava Beach Club's sister restaurant of the same name on Kaua'i.

The restaurant's culinary team is led by Rey Dilkato, who moved to the Waikoloa Beach Resort location from Lava Lava Beach Club Kaua'i. Some of their most popular dishes are Sizzling Shrimp, Mac Nut Crusted Fresh Island Fish and Huggo's Teriyaki Steak.

"The quality of food has really improved with our expanded space," Dodd says. "Some new fish dishes were added too."

Tasty breakfast items from the Brunch on the Beach menu are now available daily from 8 to 10:30 am.

The remaining restaurant renovations, including a new office building on the back of the lawn and new restrooms, were recently completed.

Because Lava Lava Beach Club is so popular, parking has been expanded.

"Our parking spaces have more than quadrupled. We are so happy to have ample parking for our loyal customers," Dodd says.

Kona-based Tinguely Development managed the construction project, while SWW Architecture and Interiors from Seattle were instrumental in updating the restaurant's architecture and interior design.

"They understood our vision and style, and the principals had been cottage guests, so they really loved Lava Lava Beach Club," Dodd comments. "They took the fun, breezy vibe and color palette we opened with and gave us an updated fresh look on the same theme. It really looks the same — why change something people love?" ●

Fun is the operative word at Lava Lava Beach Club.
